Its body is dark and oval-shaped, with several pairs of legs extending outwards. The web is a complex, radial structure made of fine, dark lines that spread out across the entire frame. LA SALLE COMES OF AGE

21st anniversary feted

La Salle has reached maturity in a manner of speaking. Opening day in September marked the beginning of La Salle's 21st year of operation.

It is somewhat of a miracle that when one considers the amount of time and effort that has gone into the future of this school, viewed with varying degrees of uncertainty.

Many students are aware that La Salle's roots of education have been firmly planted in the soil of St. Mary's College, Maryland.

Founded by the Christian Brothers of the Western Province, La Salle's roots are firmly planted in the soil of the Catholic Church, which has been a constant presence in the world.

La Salle's roots are firmly planted in the soil of the Catholic Church, which has been a constant presence in the world. La Salle's roots are firmly planted in the soil of the Catholic Church, which has been a constant presence in the world.

But because the Brothers strive for a well-served area as possible, they are not able to cover the total operating costs necessary to keep La Salle in business.

It is this aspect of the school's operation that has led to a dedicated staff of parents, students and faculty who will do whatever it takes in an effort to expand and perpetuate the La Salle project.

That philosophy has led to a commitment on the part of the school to provide the surrounding community with a viable and worthwhile educational institution.

Many have been convinced during La Salle's 21st year, some say it has become too big to ignore, and it is the place where the future will be made.

We've made it through twenty years, and we are growing and advancing rapidly. We have made it through the 21st year, and we are a full-fledged adult!

Multiple Minutages Active Frosh Week

By Matt Kelsey

When La Salle's Orientation Week was over, probably no one was happier than the Freshmen themselves.

The first activity took place on Sept. 21 when Senior Class President Jeff Moscarel talked to the Frosh about spirit.

The next day the Mass of the Holy Spirit was celebrated in the gym. Fr. A. Sacco, S.J., was the celebrant.

A special schedule on Thursday allowed an hour for various sports. Freshmen and Seniors competed against Sophomores and Juniors in warball, basketball, and volleyball.

Friday afternoon a special rally. After the last period of the day, the rally was held in the gym. A shouting match pitted Freshmen and Seniors against Sophomores and Juniors. No other group entered with a cheerleader. Fr. La Salle cheerleaders made their debut and a great appearance. Fr. La Salle cheerleaders made their debut and a great appearance.

Cross Country Squad Places 3rd in prelims, Captures Berth in CIF Finals

For the fourth consecutive season, the Lancer cross country team has qualified to compete in the CIF 1A Division finals, which places them among the top ten teams in over half the state of California.

In the prelims last week at Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut, the seven varsity harriers placed third in their heat behind Vishop and St. Joseph's high schools. Cathedral, who edged La Salle out of the Sante Fe league championship with a slim 28-29 dual meet victory previously, took the top spot in the other 1A heat.

According to coach Don Blair, the Lancers are definitely among the top five squads with a chance to duplicate the feat accomplished by the 1974 squad when they took the runner-up spot. He noted, however, that the Lancers are amidst some very strict competition, and will have to run an excellent race to even beat Cathedral, whom La Salle has never lost to in CIF competition.

Mark Brennan once again led the way for the Lancers with a fifth place finishing time of 11:04. This places the three-year varsity letterman third on the Lancer all-time list at Mt. Sac., behind school record holder Sean Green and Paul Hartfield. Following close behind was freshmen record holder Mark Ruelas, who placed tenth with a time of 11:17 and Jim Hartfield in the 15th spot at 11:29. These two freshmen standouts are now two and three on the varsity squad and members of the all-time Lancer list. Senior Carlos Ortiz followed with an 11:35 finish along with Charlie Etter at 11:44.

La Salle is recognized throughout Southern California as one of the tops in the cross country field and the Lancers are looking to continue this reputable tradition.

Basketball Jayvees Rebuilding After Championship Season

By Tim Burke

Unlike this year's varsity team, the junior varsity basketball team has no starters returning from last year's championship edition.

A few players have returned for their second year under new coach John Ring. Mike Morelli, ers to win the league title, but he also noted his team will surprise those who think his squad is destined for a low standing.

pool, the Lancer water polo team finished with another dismal record this year.

La Salle has become a formidable foe, however, as the poloists four goals, Paul Bigley and John Burke have also played consistently well all season, along with juniors Keith Bigler, Chris Kafer, Mark Nochella and Kevin Reinsch.

A large amount of credit must also go to coach Greg Jorgenson, who completed his second year at the helm of La Salle's aquatics program. Unfortunately, Jorgenson only had seven people on varsity water polo last year and as a result he had few reserves. It takes much stamina to play a complete water polo game and this year's several juniors from last year's frosh-soph squad filled out the varsity team nicely.

Both Jorgenson and his team spent about two hours each day in work-outs at Sierra Madre pool. Apparently these long hours have begun to pay off. Whether La Salle will become really strong in water polo or not remains to be seen, but if this season's improvement is an indication of a trend, our Lancer harriers may soon have to share the fall spotlight with water poloists.

GET THAT BALL! — Bob Begin and Dana Knicklebein splash towards loose ball in recent water polo game. These two senior fishermen have led the Lancer attack all year and both are looking for "all league" selections.

Two Gentlemen of Verona,
 Proteus and Valentine,
 Pledge a friendship that will last,
 The length of their lifeline,
 Valentine sails to seek his future
 In the Emperor's court of Milan.
 Proteus in Verona stays;
 To metamorphose Julia is his plan.
 Julia's heart is closed,
 But, of course, she's metamorphosed
 (As everyone eventually is),
 And she gives her heart over to his,
 (And he only gives her pearls).
 Then Proteus, too, sails to Milan,
 Leaving two very lonely girls:
 Julia who's now preggers,
 Lucetta who's her chum.
 But choosers must be beggars,
 And Two Gentlemen the girls become
 To travel thus is safety
 To Milan and the Emperor's Court
 To find her choice, dear Proteus.
 But love's memory is sometimes short,
 For Proteus now loves Silvia,
 The Emperor's daughter she, his choice,
 But her father would wed her to Thurio -
 A fool with lots of money
 And a very funny voice.
 But Silvia now loves Valentine.
 Her book of love is closed,
 And even honor-seeking Valentine
 Is by Silvia metamorphosed.

Proteus hires, Julia,
 Who's still dressed as a boy
 (He does not recognize her!),
 To deliver gifts to Silvia.
 Ah, Silvia, he doth prize her!
 Poor Julia, doth he despise her?
 And Valentine he betrays?
 Yes! His very same best friend,
 As if love did on proximity
 For livelihood depend.
 Valentine is banished.
 Proteus thinks his way is clear,
 But he did not count on Eglamour,
 Silvia's previous dear.
 And Eglamour saves her
 On her wedding Eve,
 And far into the forest
 Takes her, far from every peeve.
 And they make love until the world
 Catches up with them.
 Proteus tries to take her.
 Valentine doth save her.
 Julia reveals herself and for a favor
 Confesses that she will make a
 Life with Proteus, and Silvia chooses Val.
 And Thurio wins Lucetta,
 Julia's faithful pal,
 Everybody falls in love,
 Even milkmaids in the field.
 Everyone can be metamorphosed:
 That is the secret of life,
 And that secret is revealed.
